Hi Nancy,

I have some questions regarding the EPA labeling regs coming up in August; Kent suggested I send them directly to you rather than me trying to decipher them. I've cc'd Eric (Tech Support here) as he will also need this information for some items he is working on. I appreciate any and all assistance you can give.

Are there specific labeling requirements for the containers – is there something you might be able to send me? Or if it's easier to answer the specific questions below that would be great.

Question 1: Are there any requirements for label size; min, max or otherwise for containers?

Question 2: Is a label required for pressure testing and/or inspections? If so, does it need to be a specific color (orange we assume)?

Question 3: What, if anything is required on the labels for each opening?

Thank you so much for your help!
